

THE FARES CENTER FOR EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN STUDIES

Invites you to a Roundtable Discussion

"What is the Impact of the US Presidential Elections on the Middle East?"

Fletcher students, who spent the summer in the Middle East, will join in a roundtable discussion on the effects of the American elections in the region. The panel will attempt to project the candidates' approach to foreign policy, and discuss how they will ultimately be more stabilizing to the American presence there. The countries visited by the students include Syria, Israel, and Turkey.

Ibrahim Warde, Adjunct Professor of International Business, The Fletcher School; Associate Director of Business Programs, Fares Center for Eastern Mediterranean Studies (Moderator)

Carol Waters, MALD '09, Fletcher School (Speaker)

Dahlia Shaham, MALD '09, Fletcher School (Speaker)

Emre Kayhan, PhD Candidate, Fletcher School (Speaker)

Erin Clancy, MALD '09, Fletcher School (Speaker)

Iris Abraham, MALD '09, Fletcher School (Speaker)

Tuesday, October 21, 2008

2:00 - 3:00 pm

Fares Center Conference Room (Mugar 129)

Refreshments will be served

For Information: _____

The Fares Center for Eastern Mediterranean Studies
 Cabot Intercultural Center
 160 Packard Avenue
 Medford, Massachusetts 02155
<http://farescenter.tufts.edu>
omar.dauhajre@tufts.edu

